

— Been Thinking About Human Nature & Politics —

I understand WHY the good folk who need and are getting lots of help from our Socialist programs continue voting for (D) Socialist politicians. It shouldn't surprise you, either, that they typically become hopelessly addicted to those things...often infecting generations of their descendants, too. Why? Human nature. YOUR human nature would prompt you to do exactly what those human beings are doing. Yep; you can take that to the bank.

Among the people with whom I interact, there are those who're fully convinced that the folk who've become dependent on what they perceive as the (D)-Party's compassionate generosity are just not well educated—or even dumb. I must agree that there are folk who fit within either or both of those categories.

Still, though, that mindset is a cop-out. For starters, how many recent high school and institutions of "higher" learning graduates know how to balance a checkbook or manage credit card debt? How many of them can converse rationally about American History or World History? Church History? How many of them are aware that Adolf Hitler's (Fascist) Nazi Party was Socialist and characterized, precisely, by the same kinds of Socialist "compassion" that are so easily observed within today's Socialist (D) Party?

I'd better include this, too, or I may forget it—

How many otherwise intelligent university students get loans to finance academic majors that can never earn them enough $$$ to pay them back? ...and the "compassionate" Socialist (D) Party continues to lecture you and me about our "Christian" responsibility to absorb the enormous cost of such foolishness. Christian? How do YOU feel about being lectured-to by the only U.S. political party in history to have booed God at its national convention? Wasn't Hitler's Fascist Nazi Party also rooted in Atheism?

Biblical charity is ALWAYS voluntary. Christ gave that very personal assignment to individual Christians; not to any visible institutional church and clearly not to any government. Conscripted "charity" is grand larceny.

So what IS it about Human Nature that causes otherwise intelligent folk to focus on single-issue "small stuff" when there's a lot more really BIG STUFF that can resolve ALL the "small stuff" issues? Please make a note: Human Nature is The Sin Nature. Christians are instructed to crucify it and to replace it with the MIND of Christ.

It's true: Multiple scriptures tell us to throw our stinkin' thinkin' into the garbage heap and start thinking like Jesus thought when He walked here: Rationally. Never emotionally. Not even once. Today's Socialist (D) Party encourages its naive victims to follow their HEARTS. "He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool..." —Proverbs 28:26
